This warranty is valid once completed and signed by our salesperson.

This warranty must be read in conjunction with the Flooring Xtra Terms and Conditions. The supplier described on your invoice for flooring installation service (the installer) warrants the integrity of their workmanship and will remedy any defects in workmanship or materials used in the installation.

Conditions of your Warranty

1. All goods and services supplied by the Installer are covered by the warranties contained in the Consumer Guarantees Act 1993 (the Act) and the Installer will comply with all its obligations under the Act. This warranty does not intend to limit or negate the warranties contained in the Act. However, the installer's obligations are considered by reference to this document.
2. This warranty is personal to the customer and is not transferable.
3. This warranty is limited to the reasonable lifetime of the floor covering product. By lifetime we mean the reasonable useful lifetime of the product according to its intended use as specified by the manufacturer.
4. This warranty is void if the product has been mistreated, altered, used for a purpose other than its ordinary domestic use, flooded, subject to water or fire damage, and is on the basis that the customer maintains and cares for the floor covering in accordance with all applicable guidelines published by the manufacturer from time to time.
5. The installer's liability to you under this warranty is limited to a sum not greater than the cost of remedying any defects in the workmanship or materials used in the installation of the floor covering.
6. You authorise the installer to retain personal information detailed in this form and to release such information to the installer's employees, suppliers, installers, contractors and/or third parties for the purpose of enforcing this warranty.
7. You are entitled to have access to and to request correction of personal information concerning yourself which has been collected by us under the Privacy Act 1993.
8. This warranty is active when your account is paid in full.
9. This warranty is authorised by the company who holds the Flooring Xtra License at the date of issue being:
